

He tried to tell his friends, and he tried to explain about the ghost. But everyone thought that he was joking, as usual.

Shakir is a funny boy. He likes to laugh, and he likes to have fun, and he likes jokes. But when he saw a ghost, he didn't think it was funny.

The ghost never came back, and bit by bit he began to think it was just a joke and not real at all. Soon he wasn't scared any more.

