

Yie loves to play football with his friends. He practises a lot and is getting quite good at it.

Yie knows that if he works hard at it, one day he could be a famous person and a great footballer.

Yie plays football

So every day after school he goes with his friends to a grassy place to play football.

